Active Travel in Surrey

To help people to make the most of their new found enthusiasm for walking and cycling, Surrey County Council is trialling some new measures in town centres like Farnham where there are wider pavements and reduced speed limits. New cycle lanes are being planned in Reigate town centre in July.

Schemes to help people walk and cycle more are being planned, and bids being submitted to central government for extra funding to help deliver them.

Using modes of active travel, such as walking, cycling and scooting have multiple benefits – including benefits for both physical and mental health. But it also means fewer cars on the road and less congestion – which improves air quality. And it's also good for the environment – 46% of carbon emissions in Surrey comes from transportation. Check out the Active Travel Article for more details.
